Oliver Medical and TOLAS Healthcare Packaging are 'Better Together' as Oliver-Tolas Healthcare Packaging

Grand Rapids, Michigan, USA... Oliver Medical and TOLAS Healthcare Packaging, two very successful medical device and pharmaceutical packaging suppliers, have come together and will now operate under the single name Oliver-Tolas Healthcare Packaging.

“Combining our individual company names reflects the consolidation of our extensive resources, technology and experience while also acknowledging the individual histories and strengths each company brings to the organization,” said Jerry Bennish, CEO and President of Oliver-Tolas Healthcare Packaging.

“Together, as Oliver-Tolas Healthcare Packaging, our increased presence in the market, broadened product line, and expanded coating and manufacturing operations place us in an even better position to provide our customers with the industry’s best medical device and pharmaceutical packaging solutions,” said Bennish.

Manufacturing and administrative activities at all Oliver-Tolas Healthcare Packaging locations will continue as usual.

Oliver-Tolas Healthcare Packaging provides unsurpassed quality, innovative packaging, superior adhesives, and expert technical support to medical device and pharmaceutical manufacturers worldwide.
