2009-06-16

COVINGTON, KY – June 16, 2009—R.A. Jones & Co. Inc. has announced the appointment of Alexis Nys to the position of Director of Sales – Europe, Middle East and Africa.

In his new position, Mr. Nys will be responsible for expanding our field sales channels throughout Europe. He will also be penetrating our key accounts and driving significant increases in our order income. "Alexis brings extensive experience in the European packaging market to his position, especially with the large multinational companies in the Brewing, Soft Drink and Foods industries" said John Finck, Senior Vice President of Sales, "and we are positive that his experience will be a definite plus in meeting the needs of our customers."

Mr. Nys has a degree in Aircraft Engineering from the Belgian Air Force College and a degree in Business Management from ICHEC Brussels Business School. He was the former Managing Director and Board Director of the Western European Subsidiary of Filtec Industrial Dynamics Inc.

R. A. Jones & Co. Inc. is a subsidiary of OYSTAR, a leading worldwide provider of high performance packaging equipment and services. With over 100 years of experience designing and manufacturing packaging machinery, Jones offers a comprehensive range of value-added engineering and total packaging line services. As part of the OYSTAR family, Jones offers access to worldwide sales and service facilities that can efficiently service global packaging projects while providing on-site responsiveness and dependability.
