

Master Packaging Achieves One Hundred Percent Inventory Accuracy Leveraging PECAS Vision ERP

Packaging company takes advantage of software technology to optimize operations.

Chicago, IL – June 29, 2009 - Radius Solutions Ltd., the leading integrated Business Information Management provider for the Packaging and Printing industry announced that Master Packaging is building its business processes around PECAS Vision ERP software to deliver its strategic business objectives.

Founded in 1961, Master Packaging enjoys a long history of combining experience with technical expertise to deliver quality packaging that helps drive superior performance for its clients. The organization serves companies in a variety of industries such as: snack foods, fresh produce, fruits and nuts, baked goods, condiments, candy, coffee and pharmaceuticals. It also embraces green practices like recycling one hundred percent of scrap materials and offering post consumer recycling programs.

Master Packaging places an emphasis on taking advantage of the latest technology to streamline operations and provide outstanding customer service. The organization focuses on quality and careful attention to detail -- ensuring each job is always done right. Master Packaging is run by an experienced group of industry executives who quickly recognized the role a state-of-the-art, integrated business information management system could play in helping them reach their ongoing business objectives.

After a thorough evaluation of potential software systems, Radius Solutions' PECAS Vision application was selected. The system was rolled out across Master Packaging's entire operation and is used by all company personnel from delivery drivers to the company's CEO. "We were able to begin billing and shipping the very first day the system was installed," stated Jon Madigan, VP of OPS at Master Packaging.

Since implementing the software, Master Packaging has been able to automate processes and integrate data across all of its operations. The system has helped the company reduce and control costs, manage financial information and optimize scheduling. It has also enabled the company to get very tight grip on inventory management achieving zero variance in bank inventory audits.

Along with process improvements and data management, PECAS Vision has provided Master Packaging with immediate access to essential business information. "I literally have the information I need right at my fingertips," said Mr. Madigan. And Master Packaging plans to expand the reporting and executive dashboarding capabilities of PECAS Vision with an additional reporting suite and by implementing the Business Intelligence package available from Radius Solutions.

"Master Packaging is an excellent business partner for Radius Solutions. They didn't just choose us for our software, but also because we have the right focus, financial footing and company size to provide excellent service along with our industry leading product,” said David Taylor, President and CEO of Radius Solutions.
