PAMARCO GLOBAL GRAPHICS TO EXPAND MANUFACTURING CAPABILITIES

ATLANTA NOVEMBER 1, 2011- Pamarco Global Graphics, the world's largest anilox supplier, recently acquired the base roll manufacturing assets of the former CNW in Cincinnati, OH. All equipment will be relocated to a new facility in Walton, KY, located approximately twenty miles south of Cincinnati.

This strategic acquisition of base roll manufacturing capability complements the small roll manufacturing capability of the Offset division, positioning Pamarco as the only vertically integrated anilox roll producer in the United States. Featuring a large library of blueprints, and capacity from 10" face length to 230" face length, Pamarco will now have the ability to manufacture custom single roll orders as well as large multiple cylinder gravure, anilox, emboss and air mandrels and rubber roll cores, all utilizing the latest in CNC machining centres. Pamarco intend to retain key CNW personnel to maintain skill and quality in the operation and management of the facility. Transition to the new facility will take place in November, with a goal to be operational by early December.

ABOUT PAMARCO: Pamarco Global Graphics manufactures a diverse group of products for the flexo, gravure, offset and embossing markets with a focus on cutting edge technology and superior customer service.
