

Free 2004 Environmental & Safety Compliance Calendar Available

Environmental Resource Center's 2004 Environmental & Safety Compliance Calendar, is now available as an Internet download as well as in print. Included in this calendar are essential compliance dates for each major environmental and safety law, as well as telephone numbers for state and federal regulatory agencies.

This calendar has been developed by Environmental Resource Center® to provide guidance to companies that must meet compliance deadlines for RCRA, DOT, SARA Title III, OSHA Hazard Communication Standard, Clean Air Act, Clean Water Act, and more. With federal and state regulations changing at a record pace and the penalties for noncompliance climbing, no company can afford to be uninformed about the requirements that impact their activities.

The electronic version of the 2004 Environmental & Safety Compliance Calendar incorporates search features that allow users to quickly locate information, such as the deadlines that affect them or the phone number of their state agency.

A 2004 Environmental & Safety Compliance Calendar is available free. To download an electronic version, visit <http://www.ercweb.com/cgi-bin/compcal.asp>.
