Montalvo names new North America Director of Sales & Service

October 20, 2021, Gorham, ME, USA – Montalvo, international specialists in web tension control, has promoted Russ Hall to North America Director of Sales & Service. Mr. Hall's primary responsibilities are overseeing Montalvo's North America sales team by building, managing, and maintaining new business strategies. In addition, Mr. Hall will be developing relationships with our existing and new industry partners.

Montalvo's Chief Executive Officer Bryon Williams said "We are very excited to have Russ lead our North America Sales and Service efforts. Having served as our Field Service Manager he has a breadth of knowledge about our products and our customers' applications and processes, being able to find solutions where other companies cannot. His natural leadership capabilities will raise the bar for our internal and external sales teams delivering Better Web Control throughout the market. Our customers will truly enjoy working with Russ even more closely now, as we continue to bring new innovations and solutions to them."

Mr. Hall holds an undergraduate degree in Biomedical Technology and a graduate degree in NGO Leadership & Development. Over the last 30 years, Mr. Hall has held service, sales, and management positions with multiple technology companies. Mr. Hall moved from Alaska to Maine two years ago and joined the Montalvo technical and sales team at that time.
